

GRAPHIC DESIGNER - QUBEGROUP

OVERVIEW OF ROLE

Based in Richmond, qubeGroup is one of Melbourne's favourite creative marketing and design agencies, and we're looking for a talented creative Graphic Designer to join our small, flexible team in a role where your opinion will always count.

As a Graphic Designer, you will contribute to a variety of corporate identity projects, and provide concept and finished art for a number of diverse clients.

As a Graphic Designer, your responsibilities will include:

- Supporting the Art Director and designing for a variety of online and offline media
- Working both independently and as part of a skilled team on new brands, rebranding projects, and new and adapted media to meet existing branding guidelines
- Presenting ideas internally and to clients, and contributing to pitches, presentations, mock-ups, storyboards etc.
- Liaising with third-party resources to move projects forward to successful execution
- Ensuring that strategy always plays a critical role within the ongoing creative process

As a Graphic Designer, you'll need to demonstrate:

- Proven agency experience and knowledge of visual communications layouts for print and web
- Strong skills across Adobe Creative Suite: InDesign, Photoshop and Illustrator, with HTML coding knowledge such as Dreamweaver or Flash a plus
- Comfortable taking direction from both Art Directors and Creative Directors
- A proven ability to take a brief from concept through to finished art
- An understanding of working with budgets and tight deadlines, and the need to adjust outputs to meet client requirements

We're looking for someone who puts forward new ideas during the downtime, but can step-up when the pressure's on to maintain solid perfectionism in the face of demanding deadlines. Sound like fun?
